

The Children's NEWS

20th March 2026

Science week

Last week was Science Week and Acorn Class became super hero scientists. We did daily experiments. The children were fascinated by the adult-led experiments and made lots of good observations. They particularly enjoyed looking at the rainbow colours produced during the skittles experiment and were interested to see the colours mixing together.

The levels of engagement and interest were great to see. The children made predictions about what might happen and had the opportunity to use scientific words like predict and observe.
